June 13th IMb-Ology Certificate Program and Networking Event

Another "sold out" event enjoyed by approx. 70 GAPCC members this past June 13th at the Holiday Inn Atlanta Perimeter. This was the "kick-off" for the IMb-ology Certificate program, a three-session commitment to learn and earn USPS HQ recognition of the requirements for Full-service Intelligent Mail. The next session will be at the PCC "Day" event in September, followed by a webinar in November. In addition to the IMb information, PCC members had the opportunity to discuss: mailing requirements, network optimization, and parcel details from the Atlanta and Capital Metro USPS area representatives.

A Message from the Board— By Wanda Senne, World Marketing and Industry Co-Chair

Wanda Senne
World Marketing, Inc.
PCC Industry Co-Chair

Thank you to Mitchell Gound with Pitney Bowes Presort Services for his leadership as the GAPCC Industry Co-Chair the past several years. As I take over as the Industry Co-Chair, I am looking forward to more great events and information prepared for the GAPCC members because of the support from the executive board (see page one). Next on our agenda is the PCC “Day” event followed by the 23rd Annual Golf Outing. Please be sure to register so you are “in the know” with all the upcoming postal changes—and there are quite a few. June 13th was the start of the IMb-Ology certificate program designed to make sure you are ready for the January 2014 requirement for Full-service Intelligent mail for the lowest automation postage prices.

Some of the feedback we received included:

- The Round Table Event was great! The USPS professionals were able to answer all of our questions! We look forward to attending future PCC events.
 - These sessions are great opportunities to ask questions and get specific help.
 - It was a worthwhile time together.
- I look forward to seeing you soon.

A Message from the Board— By Maged S. Aziz, Postmaster Atlanta and Postal Co-Chair

Maged S. Aziz

PCC Postal Co-Chair

Thank you to outgoing PCC Industry Co-Chair Mitchell Gound, and welcome to Wanda Senne as my Co-Chair for the GAPCC. The Postal Customer Council® (PCC®) program is a valuable resource for business mailers, large and small. The GAPCC serves as an open channel for USPS-to-business communication, providing information and best practices for cost-effective and profitable mailing, education and training, and solving local challenges. Though most PCC members include large business mailers, government agencies, and business mail service providers, small businesses can benefit from PCC membership, too. The GAPCC offers these benefits and much more: Learn from postal experts about marketing through the mail. Network with other mailers, business mail service providers, and USPS executives to discover new ways to make your mailings more efficient and profitable. Hear first-hand from other decision-makers on how they deal with the same challenges you face. Gain knowledge about postal products, services, and tools to improve mail quality through workshops and events—and you can earn a professional certificate from USPS HQ too. I look forward to seeing you soon, and thank you for your business.

Atlanta Postal Credit Union

Atlanta Postal Credit Union, chartered in 1925, is Georgia's oldest credit union. APCU is among the largest credit unions in the nation.

Like thousands of other credit unions around the world, APCU is a member-owned, not-for-profit financial cooperative, founded on the premise that working people need a safe and sound place to save and borrow money.

From an initial investment of $2,505 in 1925, APCU's assets have grown to over $2 billion and membership is now in excess of 100,000 members. Members nationwide enjoy a full complement of financial products and services designed to save them money.

All this is what makes the credit union so different from other financial institutions—the commitment to meeting the needs of our members. APCU brings members together to improve their way of life.

Access Worldwide

Since 1999, we've been helping global mailers reach the world – more simply, reliably, and cost-effectively. It all started when mailing expert Adam Langston realized that most global mailers were only dealing with the tip of the iceberg as they tried to save on mailing costs. So Adam gathered a team of supporting professionals and created a new kind of service built on better processes, more quality control, and Total Cost of Global Mailing savings.

Our approach.

At Access Worldwide, we've developed unique, proprietary technologies that bring a whole new level of accuracy and transparency to the mailing process. We've also created an extensive global network that links us to the world's best delivery systems – so we can consistently deliver the best results at the best possible pricing.

Aflac

Aflac, a Fortune 500 company was founded in 1955 by brothers John, Paul, and Bill Amos. Aflac Incorporated is an international holding company based in Columbus, Georgia. Aflac introduced one of the world's first cancer expense insurance policies in 1958. Since the 1980s, Aflac has added many new insurance policies, including accident, short-term disability, hospital intensive care, hospital confinement indemnity, lump sum cancer, lump sum critical illness, specified health event, life, dental, and vision. Aflac has the largest on-site child-care facilities in Georgia: Imagination Station and Imagination Station Too. Together, the facilities have capacity for 621 children.

basiQa offers the only production automation solution that provides a centralized way for printers and marketers to manage multi-channel communications. Founded in 2009 by software, marketing and production industry veterans and supported by a dedicated development team, basiQa automates the production, fulfillment and tracking of print, email, text, social, PURL and text-to-voice communications—all through a single, customizable SaaS portal. The portal's innovative capabilities are complemented by a sophisticated proof-of-concept production lab that allows partners to test new projects and IT approaches that maximize production effectiveness. basiQa's IT experience, multi-channel expertise and print production understanding allow its network of client corporations, printers and marketing services groups to increase workflow efficiency, enhance communication effectiveness—and provide more value. In addition, basiQa leverages its content and domain expertise to provide custom application development services at the enterprise level.

DATAMATX

Founded in 1976 and headquartered in Atlanta, Georgia, DATAMATX is one of the nation's largest privately held, full-service providers of multi-channel electronic as well as print-to-mail distribution throughout the U.S. with three national geographically located processing centers to ensure timely, secure and reliable delivery. e-Solutions include secure electronic statement delivery via web or mobile, integrated electronic presentment and payment options, IVR payment integration as well as document archival solutions, DATAMATX processes and distributes over 500,000 business-critical documents daily for over 250 national corporate customers.

DATAMATX is one of a select few business partners of the USPS that is MPTQM certified, an ISO type standards and quality audit. As well as being PCI-DSS certified and SSAE-16 Level II to ensure the highest level of data and document security.

DATAMATX offers additional services including document personalization, redesign and composition; Internet application solutions; DVD production and archiving.

dDirect

Our history of integrating data management with direct marketing services dates back to our humble beginnings as a data processing and account service shop back in 1989. Today, dDirect offers a complete range of integrated data, direct mail, web/digital and email solutions and an advanced suite of direct marketing automation tools.

It may sound corny to admit it, but we love math. Data is never less than a numbers game, but to dDirect, it's also much more. Integrated is another term we love, not only because it describes a core principle of how we properly develop and utilize data, but also because it says exactly what we do for you: dDirect examines a client's moving parts and fits the pieces together seamlessly. We know that a successful direct marketing campaign isn't always just about mail. And an active, thriving database is so much more than a list.

We recently changed our company name from Datadirect to dDirect. Visually, it's simply the removal of three letters. On a deeper level, however, the change represents how far we've come in the past two decades – from printing statements for brokerage firms to providing Fortune 500 clients with innovative solutions that merge data and digital into one. So, now it's "d" for digital, data – and distinction.
