A Message from the Board—
By Wanda Senne, World Marketing and Industry Co-Chair

I enjoyed talking with so many of the GAPCC members at the April 15 event, and hearing about the latest postal activities. The food was great too! Please look at the events lined up for you in the “Save the Date” section below.

At the recent National Postal Forum, another PCC talked about an event they held: A Ribs BBQ to review all the resources available to mailers on the USPS’ RIBBS Website. We are going to host a similar event here in Atlanta called, “RIBBS on Ribs” on July 23.

There are so many changes with how we mail, I absolutely recommend that you do not miss out. Please take the time to go to the GAPCC’s Website at gapcc.net, and watch your mail for your invitations. Thank you for your support of the GAPCC.

By Maged S. Aziz, Postmaster Atlanta and Postal Co-Chair

The Postmaster General and CEO for the USPS, Patrick Donahoe told the recent NPF audience, “We’re seeing mail being used in some tremendous new ways—especially as part of integrated marketing campaigns. All of this is leading to a reappraisal of the role of mail in the marketing mix—and we’re starting to see the beginnings of that reappraisal.” Here in the Atlanta District, we are able to process and deliver your mail—at all time record high service performance. The recent “Load Leveling” for SCF entered Standard Mail has been implemented and we continue to meet service expectations. I am looking forward to seeing you at the GAPCC events.

Thank you for your business.
